

Story of Eddie the Villager

This is the Complete story of Eddie the Villager, obtained by BowEvolution, who risked her life for this story.

by: BowEvolution

Minecraftia - a few of the MPG members pass through his village on their quest to find the mysterious Wither Guard. After that he got a little bit addicted to BowEvolution and began to stalk them, causing almost even more problems than Jeff. He First was a Smith, but he wasn't good with crafting, so he became a librarian. He lives in the desert village of CubeCity. His house is next to the library, and looks more like a chimney than a house. On the inside of it, its all pink and purple wool. His life began when a Testificate met up with a Squid.

Eddie was bullied in school because of his white jacket, and didn't had any friends, untill someone named Fox came by, and became his first friend. He and Fox played a lot at Eddie's home, untill that fatal day, that a EnderCreeper began to stalk Fox. On 12-05-2011 the EnderCreeper kidnapped Fox, leaving Eddie again on his own. This ruined almost the entire life of him, and after 5 MinecraftYears, he became a smith. But because his sadness of losing his best friend, the things he crafted looked plain weird, and he didn't get any customers anymore. That drove him very crazy, and made him to what he is now. But after his failure as smith, he became a silent librarian, what he still is now. Untill one day, a group of humans past through his village, including his old friend Fox, and began to stalk them. But somehow, he doesn't seem to reconize his old friend. And he has a crush on BowEvolution.

Jeff grows his mustache

by: Scuttlebucket

Minecraftia Caverns - Jeff finally has a mustache and now he wants to grow it as long as possible. The MPG members didn't want it, and they'll go to court with him, now he said he wanted a huge beard too. Delta's commentry: Jeff really needs to act like a normal silverfish. He wants a mustache, beard, and I heard him talking that he wants a car too. That is kind of rediculus, because the other silverfish just live in rocks, and do not care about mustaches, beards or cars.' Jeff will go to court, and the MPG members hope that he will get thrown in jail. Jeff's commentry: I'm just different, and I think that every mob should get accepted. Take Pixelmedes for example. It is a chicken, but he wears doctor suits, and helps Bouncer with surgeries.

That is just kinda weird. I mean, have you ever seen a chicken cutting someone open with a bonesaw, and use injection needles?' A big part of the Minecraftia Cavern people think that Jeff is right about Pixelmedes, and that every mob should get accepted. The overworld, Nether, End, and Farlands people think that Jeff's opinion is rubbish, and that Pixelmedes is helping with surgeries because Bouncer used his machines and potions to make him that smart. Jeff's hearing will be on 16-2-2013.

New uranium deposit found

Picture made by Bart the Enderman from Enderpictures

A new Uranium deposit has been found on the plains near the Umbulla Jungle. Mining Cooperations Shadow Scorpion Inc. and Engineering Co. have set up camp near the jungle

by: McCreeper

The Uranium Research Department have found a new, huge uranium deposit near the Umbulla Jungle. They have offered a contract to the Mining Cooperations Shadow Scorpion, from BowEvolution and Delta, and Engineering Co., from Bouncer and Sander, who gladly accepted this offer. Shadow Scorpion has made up camp right near and in the jungle, while Engineering Co. set up camp on the plains, where they can acquire oil and coal for their machines easier. There is a big railroad in construction to transport the uranium loads to the refinery, which lies 20 miles north of the jungle.

The refinery funded both the Cooperations, for a maximum of 2.000.000 gold ingots each. Shadow Scorpion already has 4 quarry's at work, while Engineering Co. is building on more advanced and larger quarry's. Both cooperations only have 2 personel working, so the work will go quite slow. Also, a third cooperation is still waiting to get a starting position. The name of that Cooperation is TNT Enterprises of McCreeper and Fox. Currently, Shadow Scorpion Inc. stands the highest in the race for the Uranium, with 50 kilos, Engineering Co. on second place with 29 kilos won by hand, and TNT Enterprises on the last place with 10 gram of it. The jungle has some dangers in it, but both working cooperations have secured their quarry's with the new Interdiction torches, which will keep all dangers away from the quarry's.

MPD searching Herobrine

The rest of the story of the Sugarcane Farmers, and especially the mysterious Herobrine who is still roaming freely, that were busted by the M.P.D.

By: Fox

Minecraftia Plains - The M.P.D is still searching for the mysterious Herobrine who keeps escaping them. There is a price on his head of 4.000.000 diamonds, but still lead to nothing. The M.P.D's S.E.A.C squads are all mobilized and ready to respond on every message the get of his location. The last location they went too, just 5 miles away of the mine of CubeCity, lead to an abandoned base of him, with some bloody bodies of Humans and Skeletons. They think this is where Herobrine's unnamed pet lived, because after some searching they found 3 humans held captive in a meatlocker. They where unable to give commentry on the question what happend to them, or what the creature was. They are now resting in Minecraftia's Trauma Centre. The MPD found strange tracks that would belong to the creature, but those where unable to be identified. The creature is highly dangerous, and possibly still roams the area surrounding its old home.